

The Magic Feather

When I got home I saw that my mom was just about to call the police, but I quickly rushed to stop her. When I got there my mom looked shocked and angry and angry, but I tried to not pay attention on it, because I had to tell my Mom what happened. When I finished telling it to my mom she looked suprised but still cross so I had to do all the chores in the house.

Anyway how was your weekend?

Your friend Anastasia.
